

CONTENTS

Foreword	vii
Contributors	xxi
 Section 1: Teachers and Students
Chapter 1
The use of Aharon Appelfeld's Adam and Thomas in literary education	3
Milan Mašát
Chapter 2
Inclusive strategies for the teaching and learning of queer-themed curricula in the language classroom - A narrative review	14
Matthys Johannes Uys
Chapter 3
Unlocking natural ability: Expanding opportunities for emerging performing arts actors	27
Limkani Sincuba
Chapter 4
From simulated classrooms to real-world readiness: Rethinking micro-teaching for economics pre-service teacher preparation	41
Vangile Candice Khumalo, Abelwe Maluleka, & Rhulani Maluleka
Chapter 5
Learning analytics to support low-achieving students in programming education	53
Takuya Hasegawa & Yosuke Ito
Chapter 6
Cultural ontology in mathematics education: A pedagogical framework for geometry instruction in pre-service teacher training	64
Lina Vinitsky-Pinsky & Artour Mouftakhov
Chapter 7
Adult education and training in Latvia: Case study of the Zemgale planning region	77
Ginta Kronberga & Monta Mantrova
Chapter 8
Entrepreneurship education by Me & MyCity project	87
Auli Ojala

Chapter 9
A framework for early detection of weak signals of STEM-related aptitudes	99
Alina Florentina Grigorescu (Pîrvu) & Cezar Scarlat
Chapter 10
Science communication as a field of praxis: A theoretical model of converging domains	113
Mayara de Carvalho Santos, Wilton José Diolindo Nascimento Júnior, & Gildo Giroto Júnior
Chapter 11
Intermediate phase teachers' knowledge, beliefs, and challenges in promoting self-regulated learning in selected South African primary schools	124
Keneilwe Agbenyegah & Bernadette Geduld
Chapter 12
Arithmetic repetition in the teaching and learning of algebra and functions in upper secondary school - Reality status and development directions	135
Natalia Karlsson & Wiggo Kilborn
Chapter 13
Exploring the relationship between students' mathematics self-efficacy and mathematical literacy	151
Eleni Nolka
Chapter 14
Supporting science teachers to cultivate epistemic empathy	163
Valentina Bologna & Caterina Bembich
Chapter 15
Integrating advanced technology for pedagogical enhancement in grade 10 accounting instruction: A South African viewpoint	174
Olwethu Solundwana & Limkani Sincuba

Section 2: Teaching and Learning

Chapter 16
Self-evaluation among first-year university students: Anticipated performance in academic assessments	191
Giulia Maria Cavaletto & Federica Cornali

Chapter 17
Developing critical thinking skills in secondary school learners using educational philosophies: South African teachers' perspectives Bianca Williams & Celestin Mayombe	201
Chapter 18
The use of grade-level readers in the foundation phase Martha Khosa	214
Chapter 19
Through a child's eyes - Literature as a bridge to understanding PTSD Yaakova Sacerdoti	229
Chapter 20
Exploring the effectiveness of integrating didactic games in arithmetic lessons: A case study at the rudimentary level in South Africa Fitzgerald Abakah & Albert Antwi	239
Chapter 21
Developing transversal skills through creative team building in engineering education Francesca Maria Ugliotti, Michele Zucco, & Margherita Cassis	252
Chapter 22
Teaching law in the age of artificial intelligence: Time for curriculum reform? Allison Geduld	267
Chapter 23
Critical thinking dispositions in the university student population: A narrative synthesis of the concept Sharmila Fathima, Ron Salden, Chia Ping Lee, Terry Lansdown, & Deborah Ann Hall	277
Chapter 24
Extending the 2D3S4L framework: Generative AI for pedagogy, literacy, and cross-cultural English classrooms Wei Zhang & Dzintra Iliško	293
Chapter 25
The combined use of concept maps and the Kahoot gaming tool for a structured teaching of telecommunications Gerasimos Pagiatakis, Nikolaos Voudoukis, Dimitris Uzunidis, & Dimitrios Karaoulanis	306

Chapter 26
Enhancing motivation in dentistry education through an interdisciplinary multimedia project-based learning approach	323
Riánsares Arriazu Navarro, Encarnación Amusquivar Arias, Carlos Bocos de Prada, María José Borrego Gutiérrez, Lucía Guerra Menéndez, Elisa Jiménez Cabré, Esther Lantero Bringas, Úrsula Muñoz Morón, María del Nogal Ávila, María Isabel Panadero Antón, Sergio Portal Núñez, & Julio Sevillano Fernández
Chapter 27
Embodied learning through approaching works of art in the education of future kindergarten teachers	340
Kalliopi Trouli & Sofia Trouli
 Author Index	 359